Course I:

Recruitment & Selection Interviews

Course Overview:

The key to unlock an organization's potential to achieve maximum performance and efficiency lies with its people. The shortage of talent and the increasing competition for the best people means recruiters can't afford to risk losing excellent candidates because of less than effective recruitment procedures.

Every 4 out of 10 organizations (42%) say it costs at least three times an employee's salary to replace an employee who doesn't work out, including recruitment, training, severance costs and lost productivity.

46% new hires fail within 18 months;

45% are only fair to marginal performers

This course reviews all the desirable attributes, qualities and styles to be successful at screening, interviewing, evaluating applicants and employees.

Course II:

Performance Appraisal Interviews

Course Overview:

Performance Appraisal Interviews allow the employee to communicate intensively, face-to-face and in private, with his/her supervisor to review work accomplishments of the previous year, plan future performance objectives to remedy deficiencies, reinforce strengths, and address development opportunities. With a bit of training any manager can make "dreaded appraisal sessions" into rewarding experiences.

This course is designed to help you understand the appraisal documentation and process, and conduct appraisals in a professional, effective manner. You will learn how to objectively approach and handle difficult performance situations while setting objectives, monitoring performances and thus handling difficult candidates in an influential, assertive manner.

Course Outline:
